Rifle Glossary

Air rifle – A gun that uses a .177 caliber lead pellet propelled by compressed air instead of a gunpowder charge. The rifles can weigh up to 12.12 pounds.

Cleaned – A perfect target, in which the shooter hits a 10 on each of the 10 targets on the sheet for a score of 100. Can also be used to refer to a perfect match.

Front sight – The sight attached to the end of the barrel of the rifle, holding the front aperture.

Electronic targets – A target system that uses microphones and sound waves from the bullet or pellet going through the paper to send to a monitor on each point.

Iron sights – Sights that employ no magnification.

Kneeling – Shooting from a kneeling position with a sling and kneeling roll to support the position.

Off hand – The unsupported standing position.

Perfect match score – In air rifle and smallbore, 600 is perfect.

Plug – A metal device used to score targets. Variations include the "inward plug" and "outward plug." With the inward plug, the score is determined by the contact point of the outside edge of the plug with the inside of the next highest scoring ring. With an outward plug, the score is determined by the contact point of the outer edge of the plug with the inside of the next lowest scoring ring.

Prone – Shooting from a lying position.

Record shots – Also known as "shots for record," those shots that are counted toward the match score, with "sighters" not included.

Relay – One group of shooters firing the match at the same time.

Shooting glove – A padded glove, with or without fingers, used to ensure the comfort of the non-dominant hand (i.e., a right-handed shooter wears a glove on the left hand) as the shooter supports the rifle.

Shooting jacket – The jacket is made of leather or canvas and provides support and pads the shooter to minimize the effect of pulse and recoil. There are strict guidelines regarding the thickness.

Shooting boots – Boots designed for rifle shooting. They have the toe end of the sole and the heel cut flat for stability.

Shooting trousers – Snug canvas and/or leather pants usually worn over running tights or sweatpants. They often have padded reinforcements sewn on both knees and the seat to prevent the slipping of elbows and knees when firing from the kneeling position.

Sighting shots – Practice shots taken before going "for record." Sighting shots are unlimited and may be fired before the beginning of each position. Once a position's first record shot has been fired, no further sighting shots are permitted.

Sling – Adjustable strap with buckle adjustments and arm cuffs that provide stability. A sling is attached to the rifle and helps to support it in prone and kneeling positions.

Smallbore – A .22 caliber gun with an iron sight used in competition. It can be customized with special accessories and/or alterations (barrel length and style, stock, design, etc.) to fit the shooter's needs and comforts.

NU RIFLE RANGE

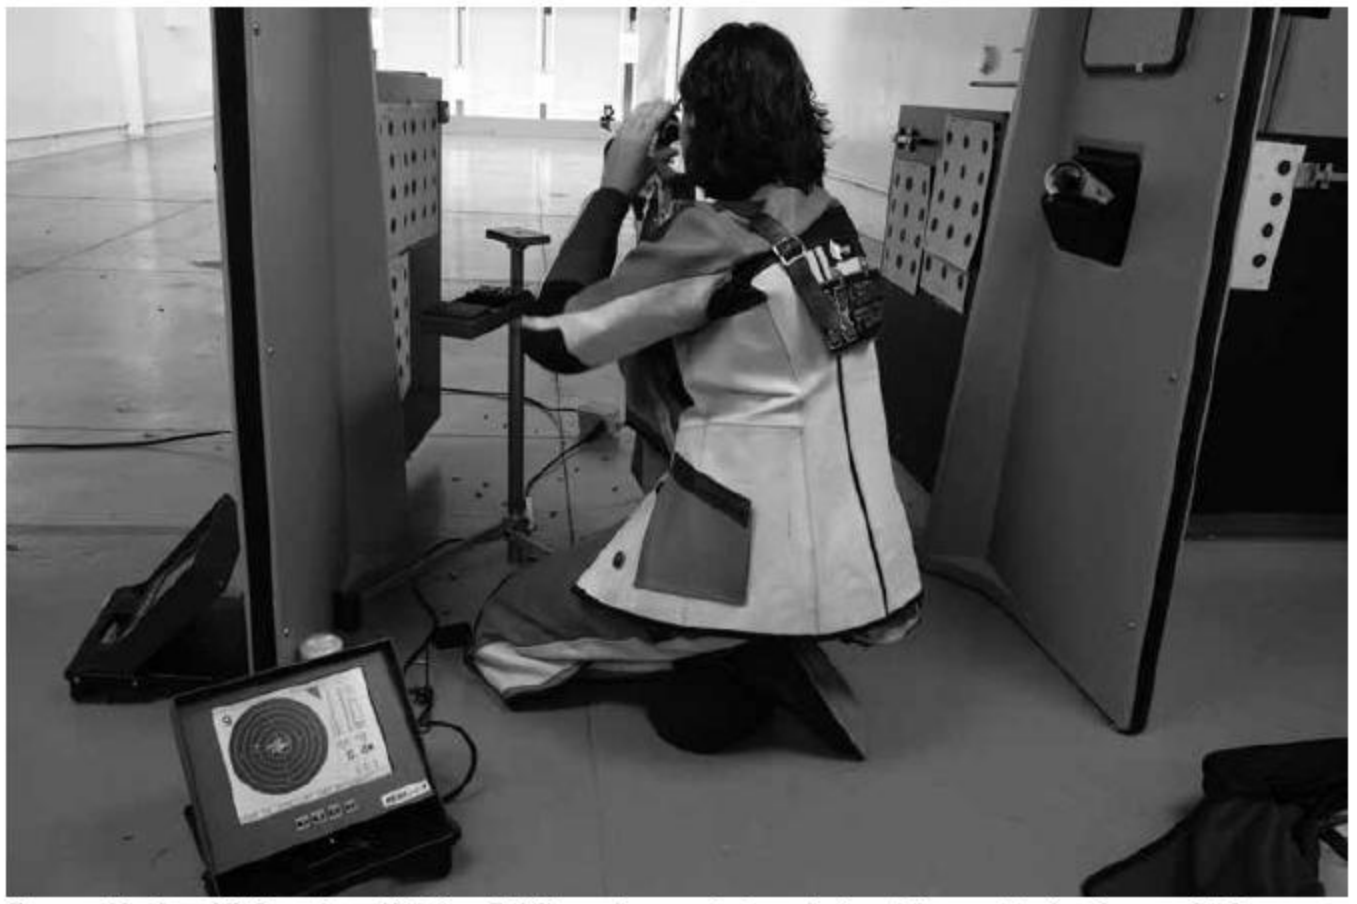
In April 2006, Nebraska became just the second university in the nation to add electronic targets to its rifle facilities. First seen only in international and Olympic competition, the electronic targets were added to the U.S. Air Force Academy's facilities before the Huskers adopted the new technology.

Electronic targeting enables shooters to aim at only one target instead of 10 different targets. The machine contains a roll of black paper, which refills the open target with a clean piece of paper after every shot. Four microphones in the electronic targets sense the precision of the shot, transmitting the information to an online computer monitor.

"Electronic targets have allowed our rifle team to reach more viewers. It has been a great marketing tool to promote our sport as well as keep everyone across the country informed. With electronic targets you no longer have to be at the range to see what is going on; you are able to pull it up on the internet. With the information so readily available it helps to grow the support base for our team and our university," Coach Ashley Rose-MacAllister said.

"This target system benefits our athletes in a number of ways. We are able to get immediate results, which makes our day shorter compared to paper targets. Our athletes are also able to work on different types of mental training that is often hard to do without electronic targets. As a coach it is a great coaching tool - I am able to see tendencies in their shots to coach them on the line."

~Coach Rose-MacAllister



Former Husker All-American Kristina Fehlings demonstrates electronic target technology, which was installed at the NU Rifle Range in 2006.

The NU Rifle Range offers the best electronic targeting and state-of-the-art technology for Husker student-athletes to maximize their potential.

Experienced Huskers Shoot For NCAA Championships

First-year head coach Ashley Rose-MacAllister inherits an experienced Nebraska rifle team that placed fifth at the 2014 NCAA Championships. The Huskers finished with an overall record of 24-9 that included a regular-season mark of 10-2.

Nebraska returns eight shooters from last season, including senior Kelsey Hansen. She is joined by four juniors and three sophomores this season. All eight shooters bring at least one year of collegiate experience on the range for the Big Red.

With such an experienced roster, Rose-MacAllister expects the Huskers to be even better than last year as they move through the 2014-15 season.

As the only senior on the team, Hansen will be looked to for leadership both on and off the range.

The shooter from North Dakota has more experience than any other Husker and earned Academic All-Big Ten Honors in 2013 and 2014.

Denise Martin, a returning All-American, is one of four juniors who will help lead this Nebraska team. Martin hopes to contend at the national level again after finishing third at the 2014 NCAA Championships in smallbore.

Magdalena Mical fired a season-high air rifle score of 588 during the first match last season and continued to help the Huskers as the season progressed.

Junior Denise Martin claimed All-America honors in smallbore at the NCAA Championships in 2014.

She hopes for continued improvement in her junior year.

Marissa Major tallied the best smallbore score of her career during the 2013-14 season and was a standout in the classroom. The junior from Colorado looks for continued success this season both on and off the range.

Alexandrea Lorentz brings a competitive edge to the team, which helped her succeed in the 2013-14 season. The junior from Alaska recorded career-best scores in both smallbore and air rifle last season. She looks to build upon her achievements from last year.

Lauren Phillips was a standout both on and off the range in her first season at Nebraska. The sophomore from Seabeck, Wash., captured All-America honors from the NRA and the CRCA. She was also the Great American Rifle Conference champion in smallbore. Phillips hopes to make a run at the 2015 NCAA Championships.

Rachel Martin also made a huge impact as a freshman. The sophomore from Peralta, N.M., placed second in smallbore at the conference championships and qualified for the NCAA Championships. Martin hopes to return to the nationals again in 2015.

Jaycee Carter fired a career-high 593 in air rifle as a freshman and was named to the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in both semesters of 2013-14. The Californian plans to build on her strong start to her career at Nebraska as she continues to improve throughout her sophomore season.

This talented Nebraska team will take aim at the top teams in the nation throughout the 2014-15 season.

Rose-MacAllister opens her first season at the helm of the Huskers when the Big Red travels to Colorado to battle Air Force on Oct. 4.

The following weekend Nebraska competes at the NU Rifle Range with a pair of home matches. The Huskers are set to square off with Rose-MacAllister's alma mater, Murray State, on Oct. 10, before facing Ole Miss on Oct. 12 in Lincoln.

Great America Rifle Conference

Nebraska joined the Great America Rifle Conference in 2004-05 after seven years as an independent program. The conference, which enters its 17th year of operation, includes Nebraska, Army, Kentucky, Memphis, Mississippi, West Virginia, Navy and North Carolina State.

Before joining the organization, the Huskers faced nearly a month-long break between qualifiers and the NCAA Championships. As a member of the GARC, Nebraska has the opportunity to compete for the conference championship in the interim, allowing it to gauge its performance before heading to nationals. Over the last 10 seasons since joining the GARC, Nebraska has finished as high as a program-best second place at the ensuing NCAA Championships.

For more information visit the conference web site at GARCRifle.com.

Getting to Know Coach Ashley Rose-MacAllister

What is your coaching philosophy?

"It's not the will to win that matters - everyone has that. It's the will to prepare to win that matters." ~Paul "Bear" Bryant

I believe that in order to be good you have to prepare for every possible outcome. Often times you cannot out work other athletes but you can prepare better.

What are you most looking forward to this season?

I am looking forward to getting to know each one of my athletes. I love to hear and find out what motivates each individual on and off the range.

What are your expectations for this season?

I expect to be as good or better than last year. The structure of the team is in place and it is continuing the progress that has been made by Coach Underwood.

What do you look for when recruiting a shooter?

I look at how the recruit will fit into our team athletically, academically and personality. What their personality is and how it will complement each of the other athletes they will be interacting with. I look for their motivation on and off the range. This motivation can often be contagious to the other team members.

What attracted you to come coach for Nebraska?

The character that each one of the athletes show on and off the range. My athletes want to make a difference in school, in athletics, and in the community. When you are working with individuals who care about what they are doing it makes each day easy to come to work. They are as passionate about what they are doing as I am coaching them.

SHAWN EICHORST

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER (1990)

Shawn Eichorst was named the 14th Director of Athletics of the University of Nebraska by Chancellor Harvey Perlman on Oct. 4, 2012. Eichorst leads a tradition-rich athletic program of 24 varsity athletic teams, 600-plus student-athletes and more than 275 full-time employees. Nebraska's reputation as a world-class academic institution and its stature as one of the strongest and most balanced athletic departments in collegiate athletics supports Eichorst's top priority, which is to ensure all Husker student-athletes have the necessary support to succeed in academics, athletics and life.

Since taking over for the legendary Tom Osborne as Director of Athletics on Jan. 3, 2013, Eichorst has immersed himself in Nebraska's rich traditions. He has made nearly 300 public appearances, including nearly 200 speaking engagements in Nebraska. He serves on the Chancellor's Senior Administrative Team and regularly meets with campus administrators and deans. Eichorst's monthly radio show and Connecting on Campus column promote the university's academic and athletic successes, along with the academic and community achievements of Husker student-athletes.

Eichorst was also the first Director of Athletics to visit the Big Ten-based Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) at its Champaign, Ill., headquarters. The CIC is a highly successful academic-based consortium of 15 schools, including all 14 in the Big Ten Conference. Nebraska is leading the Big Ten and the CIC in several areas, including the Digital Humanities and head injury research.

Under Eichorst's watch, Nebraska extended its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 314, including seven in 2013-14. NU also increased its nation-leading total to 17 NCAA Top Ten Award winners, as Mary Weatherholt (women's tennis) earned the honor in 2014. A total of 279 Huskers were honored at the Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet, and 208 Husker student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2013-14, an increase of 20 from 2012-13.

In 2013-14, Nebraska became one of only two NCAA institutions – and the first Big Ten program in history – to qualify for a football bowl game, and advance to NCAA postseason in the major team sports of volleyball, soccer, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. Nebraska was the only institution to win a postseason game in six of those seven sports.

The Nebraska football team completed its sixth straight nine-win season, while playing in its third consecutive New Year's Day bowl game, a win over Georgia. The volleyball team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight in its first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Husker soccer team qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2005, and advanced to the second round after winning Big Ten regular-season and tournament titles.

The women's basketball team captured Nebraska's first-ever conference tournament title while earning an NCAA Tournament win for the second straight year. The Huskers also hosted an NCAA Regional at Pinnacle Bank Arena – the first time since 1993 that NCAA Tournament basketball came to Lincoln. The men's basketball team earned Nebraska's first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 1998, following a top-four Big Ten finish. The men's and women's basketball teams qualified for the NCAA Tournament in the same season for the first time since 1998.

The bowling team earned an NCAA runner-up finish, and the rifle team finished fifth at the NCAA Championships. The women's gymnastics program made the NCAA Super Six and earned a share of the Big Ten title. The men's gymnastics team added an eighth-place NCAA finish, while the wrestling team claimed 11th at nationals - its top showing at the NCAA Championships since 2009.

The softball team shared the Big Ten regular-season title and advanced to an NCAA Super Regional for the second straight season. The baseball team earned its first NCAA Tournament bid since 2008. It marked the first time in school history the baseball and men's basketball teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament in the same season.

The men's track and field team finished 12th at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, after finishing 17th at the indoor meet. The women added a 19th-place finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

The Huskers produced 42 All-Americans who won 51 awards, including 29 first-team honors - NU's highest totals in more than a decade.

Nebraska ranked in the top 20 nationally in attendance in football (90,933, 9th), volleyball (8,175, 1st), men's basketball (15,419, 13th), women's basketball (6,161, 11th), baseball (3,241, 15th) and softball (963) in 2013-14. NU's football, men's basketball and volleyball attendances were all school records, and the Huskers extended NCAA-record home sellout streaks in both football (333) and volleyball (200).

Nebraska is focusing on improving the game-day atmosphere at every venue, including a $12.3 million upgrade of its wireless networks in and around Memorial Stadium in 2014. It is the largest wireless network system installation at a college stadium in history. The upgrade includes a new sound system, IPTV system installation and innovative smartphone applications.

In the summer of 2013, Memorial Stadium expansion increased capacity while adding the innovative Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) inside East Stadium next to the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). The men's and women's basketball teams became the primary tenants at Pinnacle Bank Arena, and the renovated Devaney Center became the home of the Husker volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's gymnastics programs.

The next major facility project is a world-class, $20.4 million Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex, located just north of the Devaney Center and Innovation Campus. When completed in 2015, the facilities will rank among the best in the Big Ten.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after serving as Director of Athletics at Miami in 2011 and 2012. During his tenure, Eichorst helped grow the academic reputation of an already sterling program with NCAA Top 10 recognition in Academic Progress Rates (APR) for five programs – football, baseball, men's diving, women's cross country and women's golf. Miami's Hurricane Club grew to more than 5,000 nationwide. A total of $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12, and $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised for the Center for Athletic Excellence.

Eichorst hired legendary men's basketball coach Jim Larrañaga, and the Hurricanes advanced to the NIT second round. The women's basketball program posted the highest national ranking in school history (No. 5) and advanced to the NCAA second round. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the fourth straight season, and the baseball team made its 40th consecutive NCAA appearance. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA Tournament win in history, and the volleyball team made its third straight NCAA Tournament trip.

Before heading to Miami, Eichorst was the Deputy Athletics Director at Wisconsin from 2009 to 2011. He was the Chief Operating Officer and oversaw the day-to-day operations (23 intercollegiate programs, 850 student-athletes, 320 full-time employees) under Director of Athletics and former Husker Barry Alvarez. Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new ice hockey and swimming facility, and the Student-Athlete Performance Center at Camp Randall Stadium.

At South Carolina, Eichorst oversaw daily operations of the department and supervised Lou Holtz's and Steve Spurrier's football programs and Ray Tanner's baseball program. The football team was bowl-eligible each season, and the baseball team competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he coordinated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a football training facility.

From 1999 to 2003, Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at Wisconsin-Whitewater, which produced four top 10 percent NACDA Directors Cup finishes, one NCAA team title, two NCAA runner-up finishes and five individual national champions. The program also featured 11 CoSIDA Academic All-America selections, seven NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 74 All-Americans.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 football team captain for Wisconsin-Whitewater. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette in 1995. He practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999. He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors. In 2006, Marquette awarded Eichorst the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year award. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Eichorst and his wife Kristin have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

Top-Five NCAA Finish Keeps Huskers Climbing

The Nebraska rifle team had another impressive season in 2013-14, continuing its advancements on the national level in head coach Stacy Underwood's final season. The Huskers set several school records and qualified for the NCAA Championships for a second consecutive year.

Nebraska finished the season with a 24-9 overall record that included a 10-2 regular-season mark, before claiming a fifth-place team finish at the NCAA Championships.

Three Huskers captured All-America honors from the NRA and CRCA, led by NRA first-team All-Americans Denise Martin and Lauren Phillips and second-teamer Rachel Martin. All three awards came in the smallbore for the Big Red. The CRCA honored Phillips and Denise Martin on its third team, while Rachel Martin was an honorable-mention pick. The trio will form the nucleus of a bright future for the Huskers in the years to come, as Phillips and Rachel Martin were true freshmen in 2013-14. Sophomore Denise Martin, who led the Huskers with a third-place individual finish in smallbore at the 2014 NCAA Championships, is expected to lead a young and talented roster next season.

Coach Underwood claimed individual honors of her own for the second straight season at Nebraska, capturing the Collegiate Rifle Coaches Association's (CRCA) Coach-of-the-Year honors. Phillips captured the smallbore title at the GARC Championships, while Rachel Martin added a runner-up finish in the event for the Big Red to help the team to a third-place finish. Rachel Martin also captured first-team All-GARC honors in smallbore, while Phillips brought home a second-team award in smallbore and honorable-mention All-GARC accolades in air rifle. Denise Martin added an All-GARC award of her own, earning honorable-mention in the smallbore.

Nebraska opened the season in October at the NU Rifle Range against defending NCAA champion West Virginia, falling to the Mountaineers by just five points. The Huskers received spectacular efforts from Phillips, Rachel Martin, ReAnn Wilson and Maggie Mical. Wilson and Mical both opened with personal-best scores, as Wilson posted a 574 in smallbore and Mical notched a 588 in air rifle.

The Huskers used the early confidence gained from their narrow loss to the Mountaineers to reel off eight consecutive victories - all against ranked opponents. Nebraska's run began with Navy on Oct. 26, when Phillips, Denise Martin and Alex Lorentz fired career-best scores. Phillips produced a 585 in air rifle, while Lorentz (577) and Denise Martin (584) both registered smallbore career highs.

The Big Red hit the road for the first time in November, traveling to Kentucky to face UT-Martin. The Huskers cruised to victory by over 200 points, as Denise Martin led NU with a 584 in smallbore and a 587 in air rifle.

Nebraska returned home for two matches against Memphis and Ohio State at the end of November. Denise Martin scored a season-high 591 in air rifle against Memphis, while Sunny Russell finished with a personal-best score of 589 in air rifle against the Buckeyes. The Huskers won both matches to conclude the fall portion of their schedule.

Nebraska opened 2014 on the road, competing against Ole Miss in Oxford. The Huskers captured a narrow six-point win over the Rebels, before returning home to face Air Force twice in the same weekend. NU flew past the Falcons with an impressive 4,685, surpassing the Huskers' previous season high combined score by more than 20 points. It was the fourth-highest score in program history. Kelsey Hansen fired a season-high 593 in air rifle to help the team get the victory.

The following day, Hansen and Rachel Martin both fired air rifle scores of 591 to help the Huskers rally for another win after trailing by more than 10 points after the completion of smallbore competition.

In early February, NU traveled to Kentucky, for dual matches against Murray State and Kentucky. The Huskers defeated Murray State, but fell short against the Wildcats, who snapped Nebraska's eight-match winning streak.

The Huskers bounced back quickly to finish the regular season strong by defeating NC State and the hosts from Army in West Point, N.Y. Against NC State, Nebraska shattered the program's previous air rifle record and finished with a team score of 4,690, the second-highest team score in program history. Rachel Martin finished with a career-best smallbore score of 585, while Phillips added a career-best 593 in air rifle.

The following day against Army, Phillips raised her career-high smallbore score to 587, while Jaycee Carter (593) and Marissa Major (577) both added career bests in the air rifle to help the Huskers past the Black Knights.

After a two-week break from competition, Nebraska journeyed to Murray, Ky., for the NCAA Qualifiers. The Huskers performed well, taking second out of seven teams to claim a spot in the NCAA Championships field for the second straight season.

In between the NCAA Qualifiers and the NCAA Championships, the Huskers stayed sharp by competing in the GARC Championships in Oxford, Miss. Nebraska finished third at the conference meet behind stellar individual performances from freshmen Phillips (champion) and Rachel Martin (runner-up) in the smallbore. The duo dominated the event, as the third-place winner finished more than 10 points behind Martin and more than 15 points behind Phillips.

Denise Martin also made it to the smallbore finals and finished in eighth place. Phillips added a trip to the air rifle finals, where she finished seventh.

At the NCAA Championships March 14-15 in Murray, Ky., the Huskers finished fifth with a combined score of 4,660. West Virginia (4,705) successfully defended its 2013 NCAA title, while Alaska (4,677), Kentucky (4,675) and Memphis (4,669) finished just in front of the Big Red. Denise Martin highlighted the Husker performances at the NCAA Championships, taking third in the individual smallbore competition with a career-best 586 to put the finishing touches on an outstanding 2013-14 season for the Huskers.

Lauren Phillips was an NRA and CRCA All-American as a freshman. Phillips captured the GARC title in smallbore and finished seventh in the conference in air rifle.

Alexandrea Lorentz fired career-best scores in both events as a sophomore, finishing with a personal-best smallbore score of 577 and a personal-best air rifle score of 583.

THIS IS NEBRASKA

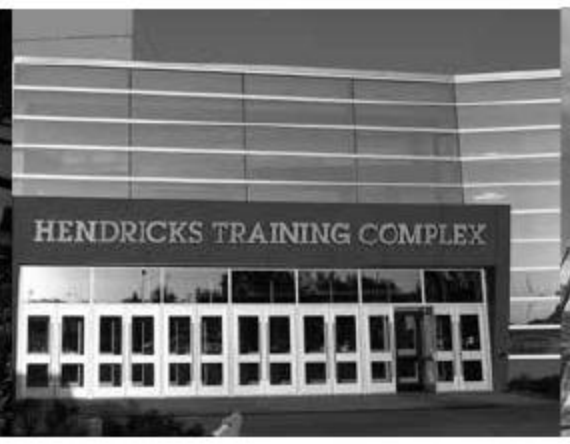
The Nebraska Rifle Range is located in the lower level of the Military and Naval Sciences building. One of the finest training facilities in the nation, the Nebraska Rifle Range features 10 firing points with caswell shooting stalls and electronic targets.

Moveable target carriers, which are controlled at the firing line, allow targets to be placed at any distance up to a maximum firing distance of 50 feet. Permanent stops for the targets are located at 10 meters and at 50 feet for NCAA air rifle and smallbore competition.

The Husker rifle team is also able to utilize some of the finest all-sport facilities in the nation at Nebraska, including the Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center. The Myers Performance Center includes massive athletic training facilities for NU student-athletes to maximize their potential.

HOME OF CHAMPIONS

Nebraska's nationally renowned athletic programs enjoy some of the finest home facilities in the country. Nebraska is dedicated to providing its athletes top-notch game-day and practice atmospheres in every sport. Nebraska annually hosts several Big Ten and NCAA Championship events, including soccer, volleyball, basketball, baseball, track and field, softball, golf, gymnastics, wrestling and swimming and diving.



Top: The Osborne Athletic Complex provides Nebraska student-athletes with the nation's best training facilities.

Middle: Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds, including the Devaney Center (left), which is the new home of the three-time national champion Husker volleyball team in 2013, after undergoing extensive renovations. The Hendricks complex (middle) is the new practice home of the Husker men's and women's basketball teams, while Pinnacle Bank Arena became their new competitive homes in 2013-14.

Bottom: Memorial Stadium has been packed for more than 333 consecutive home games - a continuing NCAA record. Approximately 90,000 fill Memorial Stadium each game, with an electric game-day atmosphere that includes giant HuskerVision replay boards and ribbon boards spanning the east and west balconies.

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers and Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber, the 2014-15 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, 13 athletic trainers and six graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

Above: Associate Athletic Director and Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers coordinates the care of Husker student-athletes by using some of the best on-site technology in collegiate athletics.

The Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool, which allows student-athletes across all of Nebraska's sports to work out simultaneously. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment, while hot and cold plunge tanks are also available to the Huskers.

HUSKER POWER

"The University of Nebraska's Athletic Department has an unprecedented history of supporting its student-athletes. Nebraska is committed to providing the best facilities, equipment and atmosphere."

James Dobson
Strength Coach

NUTRITION

Nebraska's Sports nutritionist and registered dietitian Lindsey Remmers and nutritionist Ryan Reist work with all 24 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as increasing lean body mass, losing body fat, staying hydrated, nutritional strategies for competition, maximizing recovery following workouts and supplement use. Athletes are given individualized nutrition plans that can be applied in Nebraska's Performance Buffet at the Lewis Training Table, which was remodeled and expanded in 2010. In addition to utilizing the Lewis Training Table each day for lunch and dinner, student-athletes have access to fueling stations called The Landing, located in North Stadium and the Oasis, located in the Hendricks Training Complex. Both provide chocolate milk, shakes, bars, fruit, nuts, bagels, vitamins and Gatorade at any time before and after training to maximize performance gains and recovery.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

University of Nebraska student-athletes produced another outstanding year in competition, in the classroom and in the community, continuing NU's tradition of success in 2013-14. The Huskers increased their nation-leading total of all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 314 with a Big Ten-best seven academic All-Americans across all sports, while also claiming a Big Ten-leading five NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in 2013-14.

Nebraska's seven CoSIDA Academic All-Americans ranked among the highest totals in the nation across all divisions. The Huskers maintained their lead of 76 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans over national No. 2 Notre Dame. The only school in the nation with 300 academic All-Americans, Nebraska is one of just three schools across all divisions with 200 or more, joining Notre Dame and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). NU leads the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans since 2000 with 124, extending its nation-leading streak to 43 consecutive years with at least one academic All-American.

The Huskers also increased their nation-leading total of NCAA Top Ten Award winners to 17, as former women's tennis All-American Mary Weatherholt was honored during the 2013-14 academic year. Nebraska also ranks among the nation's best in the total of NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners, including five in 2013-14. Spencer Long (Football), Eric Schryver (Men's Gymnastics), Emily Wong (Women's Gymnastics), Sunny Russell (Rifle) and Anne Martin (Track & Field) all claimed the prestigious national awards.

A total of 675 awards were issued for the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Fall (354) and Spring (321) Honor Roll, recognizing Husker student-athletes who produced a 3.0 GPA or better during a semester. Among that group, Huskers produced 87 perfect 4.0 GPA semesters. A total of 62 Nebraska student-athletes also were honored as Big Ten Distinguished Scholars for posting 3.7 grade-point averages or better and lettering in their respective sports in 2013-14.

THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 75 tutors addressing all subject areas.

Academic Counseling

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Each student-athlete is required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. In addition, weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall may also be determined by the academic counselor.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with 58 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

Nebraska's Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex (left page) opened after receiving an $8.7 million expansion and renovation in 2010. The complex tripled the size of NU's previous academic support area for student-athletes. The Nebraska Life Skills program helps Husker student-athletes experience the benefits of service to others while learning to expand their own leadership skills. The Abbott Life Skills Center (below) is located within the Herman Family Student Life Complex.

In 2014, rifle's Sunny Russell earned a prestigious Nebraska Heart & Soul Award as one of NU's most dedicated student-athletes to all areas of community service. She is pictured with Nebraska fullback C.J. Zimmerer, who also won the award.

NEBRASKA LIFE SKILLS - SERVING LEADERS

The Nebraska Life Skills program is committed to providing proactive education, resources and support throughout college and beyond, best preparing Husker student-athletes for life after sports. Services foster transition, retention, responsible decision-making, leadership, volunteerism and career development.

Nebraska has long been considered a pioneer in life skills support and programming. In 1998, Nebraska was one of five Division I schools nationally to win the prestigious Program of Excellence Award recognizing a strong commitment to total person development. In 2005, Keith Zimmer, Associate A.D. for Life Skills, was the recipient of the Dr. Gene Hooks Award recognizing him as the top life skills administrator in the country.
